Re: Berry Global Announces Spin Off and Combination of its Health, Hygiene and Specialties Global Nonwovens and Films business with Glatfelter

[INSERT PERSONALIZED GREETING],

Today we announced that Glatfelter has entered an agreement in which we will combine our company with a spin-off of Berry's Health, Hygiene and Specialties Global Nonwovens and Films business ("HHNF"). The link to the press release can be found here.

We are confident the combination of Glatfelter and Berry's HHNF segment, with the support of our suppliers, provides a unique opportunity to create a premier nonwovens supplier and a global leader in the growing specialty materials industry, unlocking greater value creation opportunities for our customers through an extensive product portfolio, superior innovation capabilities and technical expertise. Simply put, we believe our decision to combine Glatfelter with HHNF will allow us to be an even better partner to you.

This transaction also creates meaningful opportunities for NewCo, which will become a global leader in the growing specialty materials industry, serving the world's largest brand owners across global end markets with favorable long-term growth dynamics. With fast-growing health and hygiene end markets, scalable innovation, and sustainable solutions offerings, we are confident that NewCo will be uniquely positioned to meet our global customer needs.

Importantly, until the transaction closes, which is targeted for the second half of 2024, nothing is changing with how we work with you. Until the completion of the transaction, Glatfelter will remain an independent organization, and we are continuing to operate as usual. Ensuring the quality and reliability of the supply chain will be essential to our shared interests, today and after the transaction closes.

Finally, upon completion of the transaction, Curt Begle, Berry's Health, Hygiene, and Specialties Division President, will lead NewCo as Chief Executive Officer.

We are committed to ensuring a seamless process for all of our stakeholders.

Thank you for your continued support of Glatfelter.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Fahnemann
President & Chief Executive Officer

Cautionary Statement Concerning Forward-Looking Statements

Statements in this communication that are not historical, including statements relating the expected timing, completion and effects of the proposed transaction between Berry and Glatfelter, are considered “forward looking” within the meaning of the federal securities laws and are presented pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. You can identify forward-looking statements because they contain words such as “believes,” “expects,” “may,” “will,” “should,” “would,” “could,” “seeks,” “approximately,” “intends,” “plans,” “estimates,” “projects,” “outlook,” “anticipates” or “looking forward,” or similar expressions that relate to strategy, plans, intentions, or expectations. All statements relating to estimates and statements about the expected timing and structure of the proposed transaction, the ability of the parties to complete the proposed transaction, benefits of the transaction, including future financial and operating results, the combined company’s plans, objectives, expectations and intentions, and other statements that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements. In addition, senior management of Berry and Glatfelter, from time to time make forward-looking public statements concerning expected future operations and performance and other developments.

Actual results may differ materially from those that are expected due to a variety of factors, including without limitation: the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the proposed transaction; the risk that Glatfelter shareholders may not approve the transaction proposals; the risk that the necessary regulatory approvals may not be obtained or may be obtained subject to conditions that are not anticipated; risks that any of the other closing conditions to the proposed transaction may not be satisfied in a timely manner; risks that the anticipated tax treatment of the proposed transaction is not obtained; risks related to potential litigation brought in connection with the proposed transaction; uncertainties as to the timing of the consummation of the proposed transaction; unexpected costs, charges or expenses resulting from the proposed transaction; risks and costs related to the implementation of the separation of Berry’s HH&S global nonwovens and films business into a new entity (“Spinco”), including timing anticipated to complete the separation; any changes to the configuration of the businesses included in the separation if implemented; the risk that the integration of the combined companies is more difficult, time consuming or costly than expected; risks related to financial community and rating agency perceptions of each of Berry and Glatfelter and its business, operations, financial condition and the industry in which they operate; risks related to disruption of management time from ongoing business operations due to the proposed transaction; failure to realize the benefits expected from the proposed transaction; effects of the announcement, pendency or completion of the proposed transaction on the ability of the parties to retain customers and retain and hire key personnel and maintain relationships with their counterparties, and on their operating results and businesses generally; and other risk factors detailed from time to time in Glatfelter’s and Berry’s reports filed with the SEC, including annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K and other documents filed with the SEC. These risks, as well as other risks associated with the proposed transaction, will be more fully discussed in the registration statements, proxy statement/prospectus and other documents that will be filed with the SEC in connection with the proposed transaction. The foregoing list of important factors may not contain all of the material factors that are important to you. New factors may emerge from time to time, and it is not possible to either predict new factors or assess the potential effect of any such new factors. Accordingly, readers should not place undue reliance on those statements. All forward-looking statements are based upon information available as of the date hereof. All forward-looking statements are made only as of the date hereof and neither Berry nor Glatfelter undertake any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statement as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as otherwise required by law.
